Flying Workbook

2017, 2'45''

It's autumn and the rocky ledge is a lovely place to be. Koyaa decides to step outside and write a few things in his workbook. Mr Raven is nearby, folding old magazines and newspapers. Koyaa opens a page, but the book slams itself shut! Surprised, he tries opening it again - but the book just floats off into the air. Koyaa hops up onto the table. It's no use, he still can't grab it ... While giving chase, he has an idea. After hatching a cunning plan, he manages to calm the workbook down so that Mr Raven can finish building his recycled paper birdhouse in peace.
